Move To Change Rights Bill Halts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of a jury trial amendment closed the door today to any further Senate changes in a civil rights bill the Eisenhower administration seems on the verge of disowning.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he and others will block any attempts to get a unanimous consent agreement, necessary to reopen the bill to amendments, before its expected passage by the Senate tomorrow or Thursday.

With any alterations thus left to uncertain House action, the senatorial argument over the jury trial provision continued at a bitter level.

Disputes Johnson Claim

Sen. Javits (R-N.Y.), an advocate of a strong civil rights measure, disputed the contention of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas that jury trials would be needed in only a few cases.

The amendment, sponsored by O'Mahoney and others, would require such trials in all federal court cases involving criminal contempt. These cases arise where a judge desires to punish a defendant who fails to comply with the court's order or complies too late to make it effective.

Ike Veto Expected

President Eisenhower has been represented as likely to veto the measure unless this provision is limited to voting rights cases.

Administration leaders have contended the broad provision would disrupt the enforcement of the antitrust laws and the carrying out of decisions by government regulatory bodies.

Johnson said there had been only a "handful" of criminal contempt cases. He added that those who argued justice couldn't be obtained with jury trials were arguing against the whole jury trial system.

Javits said in an interview it "isn't so" that only a few cases have gone the criminal contempt route.

Video 'Tough' Guys Beaten; Two Accused

NEW YORK (AP)—Two teen-age brothers who have appeared in "tough guy" roles in television dramas were beaten up by two youths in a park in upper Manhattan yesterday.

Police gave this account: A half dozen youths confronted Dennis Mahoney, 16, and Patrick, 14, as they were walking in Highbridge Park.

One of the group stepped forward and said to the brothers: "You guys are supposed to be tough guys, aren't you? Well, let's see you prove it."

Two of the group then punched and kicked the brothers, who fled. The Mahoney boys' parents took them to Jewish Memorial Hospital.

Dennis was kept at the hospital for treatment of a brain concussion. His condition was reported satisfactory today. Patrick was treated for a bruise over his right eye and sent home.

The brothers identified their assailants. Detectives arrested two 16-year-old boys, John Matthews and Thomas P. Ryan, and charged them with assault.

Small, Strap-On Helicopter Gets Military Check

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Aeronautical engineer Eugene M. Gluhareff says that he has produced the world's smallest strap-on helicopter.

It weighs only 68 pounds. The user slips it on like a knapsack. Gluhareff, who says that the armed forces are showing an interest in his device, claims it flies 50 m.p.h. for about half an hour.

The tiny copter has jet engines, fed with propane gas, at the end of two 10-foot rotor blades.

Two Die In Flood

LAS VEGAS, N. M. (AP)—A minister and his young daughter drowned in the flash flood which swept the Las Vegas area early yesterday after a 79 inches of rain fell in the mountains to the north.

Members of the Committee for Nonviolent Action Against Nuclear Weapons were in meditation early today. Their spokesmen said they will begin an early morning "prayer vigil" outside the gate to the Atomic Energy Commission's test organization headquarters.

Approximately at midmorning, according to plan, an 11-member team will attempt to enter the gate and penetrate into the restricted test site itself.

Mentime, in the 1957 atomic test series a detonation scheduled for today was postponed 24 hours because of strong winds. There have been 10 test explosions this year, the last one July 25.

U. S., Japan Reveal Joint Security Unit

Committee To Study Problems Relating To Mutual Treaty

TOKYO (AP)—Japan and the United States today announced formation of a joint security committee to consult on the operation of the two nations' mutual security treaty.

Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II and Adm. Felix B. Stump, commander of U. S. forces in the Pacific, are the American members. The Japanese are Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama and Juichi Tsushima, Japan's equivalent of a defense secretary.

Meet In Near Future

An announcement said the committee would meet first "in the near future" and thereafter at the request of either government.

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi agreed to set up the committee during Kishi's visit to Washington in June.

Study Security Affairs

The committee will study "any matters underlying and related to security affairs which would serve to promote understanding between the two governments and contribute to the strengthening of cooperative relations between the two countries in the field of security," the announcement said.

It mentioned specifically consultation on disposition and employment of U. S. forces in Japan and on "future adjustments in the relationships between the United States and Japan."

Protest Atom Tests Demonstrators Attempt To Enter Nevada Area

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Demonstrators against nuclear tests say they'll try to enter the heavily guarded Nevada test site today on the 12th anniversary of the first atomic bomb.

The committee, organized in May to carry out the demonstration here, is made up of representatives from several pacifist groups. Although Scott is a Baptist minister, the committee is not officially connected with any church group.

Meantime, in the 1957 atomic test series a detonation scheduled for today was postponed 24 hours because of strong winds. There have been 10 test explosions this year, the last one July 25.

Ike Building Fund Pared $279 Million

$1.5 Billion Okehd By House Unit; Mostly For Use Of Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee slashed $279,158,380 from a supplemental money bill today and told the Air Force not to make its new academy "a monument to governmental extravagance."

It approved $1,581,590,587 of the $1,860,748,967 President Eisenhower had requested for miscellaneous programs, mainly for military construction.

Included in the total approved was 12½ millions of the 35 millions requested for a new Washington airport at nearby Burke, Va., a project fought bitterly by both Maryland and Virginia senators.

Cuts Air Academy

The committee cut $8,332,000 from the $29,169,000 requested for construction at the new Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. It expressed dissatisfaction over "the evident lack of concern for cost factors."

Some contracts have been let at costs as much as three times original estimates, it said.

The steady increase in air traffic into and out of Washington, the committee said, makes it imperative that the area have a new airport by 1960. The estimated over-all cost of the proposed new airport at Burke is 60 million dollars. The committee said the full construction cost will be amortized over "a reasonable number of years, thereby costing the taxpayer nothing."

Lack Of Coordination

For military construction, the committee recommended $1,521,000,000 of the $1,764,500,000 requested. It complained of "a lack of coordination and agreement on objectives between the office of the secretary of defense and the three services" in the family housing field.

The committee approved $2,410,000 of the $3,875,000 the Army requested for administration of the Ryukyu Islands but rejected the entire $9,200,000 sought for a new electric power plant for the islands. It said the islands now are using less than 40 per cent of the output of the existing generating plant.

Other allotments included: Fifteen millions for disaster relief for states and local areas suffering major disasters.

$13,317,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority, a reduction of $1,465,000.

Cool Weather Holds In East

By The Associated Press
Warmer temperatures were in the works today from the central Plains to the western Great Lakes but cool Canadian air still held sway over the rest of the eastern half of the nation.

Temperatures in the cool air mass moving over most of the East ranged from the 50s in the Great Lakes and northern portions of the Atlantic Coast states to the 70s from the northern and southern Plains through the Gulf Coast.

Temperatures in the 40s were reported during the early morning in upstate New York and in New England, and the mercury plunged into the 30s in some duce German unity declarations designed to influence next month's elections in West Germany.

Girl Who Slew Her Roommate Will Face Trial

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Elaine Soule, a 19-year-old clerk-typist from Freeport, Long Island, N. Y., was indicted last night by the San Mateo County grand jury on a murder charge in the slaying of her roommate.

The victim, Catherine Marie Evans, 20, daughter of a prominent Seattle physician, was struck 27 times with a flatiron and stabbed 20 times in the chest last July 24 in the apartment she shared with Miss Soule in nearby Burlingame.

"The motive was money," Dep. Dist. Atty. Howard Hartley quoted Miss Soule as saying—a $160 check sent the victim by her mother, Mrs. Naomi Elvins, wife of Dr. Richard E. Elvins of Seattle.

Hartley later said "We're less and less interested in the check as a motive and more and more interested in the quarrels" which neighbors reported the young women had constantly.

Probers Told Of Protection Paid To Dio

Auto Glass Dealers Forced To Give In Or Lose Businesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Brooklyn lawyer testified today that racketeer Johnny Dio sold "protection" through a union contract to automobile glass dealers in the New York area.

Stanley Lehrer, attorney for the Auto Glass Dealers Assn. of Greater New York, told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee he sat in on the negotiations. He said Dio guaranteed the 150 association members they would have no further labor troubles if they signed up with Local 227 of the old United Auto Workers Union AFL.

Lehrer said at least 60 per cent of the shops are one-man or two-man operations, in which the owners hire no employees, but that they had to join the union anyway and pay monthly fees and dues to both the union and Dio's Equitable Research Corp.

Robert F. Kennedy, the committee counsel, called it a "sweetheart" contract—a term applied to contracts in which union officials and employers reach terms to benefit themselves but which afford few benefits for the workers.

Lehrer said "I agree it was a very 'soft' contract" which would mean little to the dues paying employees. Casually, he added it was "very favorable to the employer in a one man shop who had no need for it in the first place."

Lehrer said the contract, which called for payments ranging upward from $190 a year from shops and their employees, brought the association immunity against "jurisdictional" disputes in which rival unions would place picket lines around their plants and thus shut off delivery of glass for installation.

One thing the contract did, the lawyer said, was put an end to visits from a character named Benny (The Bug) Ross, who was trying to organize the plants into a rival union.

Crewmen Unhurt In Sub Collision

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Atlantic Fleet submarines collided at sea early today. The vessels were damaged slightly but the crews escaped injury, the Navy reported.

The submarines are the Tusk, based at New London, Conn., and the Cobble, a unit of Submarine Squadron 6 at Norfolk, Va. The vessels are headed for New London under their own power.

Remains Of Two Infants Found In Rental Lockers

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—The de-an accumulation of unclaimed composed bodies of two babies, packages, possibly twins, were found last night among unclaimed packages spokesman explained that unclaimed packages found in lockers are usually kept at least six months before they are opened.

Dr. John Fust, pathologist at Coroner Woods said an autopsy would be performed today to find out how the infants died. Police developed and possibly were twins said they believed the box was who perished shortly after birth, placed in a rental locker between Police said the bodies were in July of 1956 and January of 1957, a metal box sealed with cellophane but that they had no clue to the identity of the persons who disposed of them.

First Lady Had Benign Condition

Hagerty Says Move Not Emergency; Ike Remains At Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower underwent an operation today for a "benign" condition. The White House said the operation was "not serious."

The first lady was reported to be in "good condition following surgery."

The operation was performed at Walter Reed Hospital by an Army gynecologist, Dr. Humbert L. Riva.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Mrs. Eisenhower entered the operating room about 8 a.m. and the surgery was concluded two hours later.

Ike Stays At Capitol
While the operation was in progress, the President was meeting at the White House with Republican congressional leaders.

Soon after the operation, Mrs. Eisenhower was able to talk with the President by telephone. He had talked with her last night by phone and again this morning before her operation. Hagerty said the President would visit her this afternoon.

Hagerty said it has been known for "quite a little time" that the first lady would require surgery. He added that it was not an emergency operation and that Mrs. Eisenhower had not been in pain.

Her son, Maj. John S. Eisenhower, and his wife, spent most of last evening with her at the hospital.

Hagerty said he did not plan to issue any medical bulletins on her condition. He said, however, he would make it known immediately if any complications developed.

Visited In Denver
Mrs. Eisenhower returned Saturday from a week's visit to Denver. She appeared to reporters there to be feeling well, but was accompanied on the trip by the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder.

In Denver she took part in a ceremony dedicating the new Mamie Doud Eisenhower Park. The ceremony was cut short in order to save the physical strain on Mrs. Eisenhower on an extremely hot day.

Eisenhower himself has said Mrs. Eisenhower's health is not as robust as might be wished and she has led a less active life in the White House. At various times she has rested in bed for several days.

The first lady has had no serious illness since her husband took office—unlike the President himself, who suffered a heart attack in 1955 and underwent surgery for an intestinal obstruction the following year.

Election Fund Move Scored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comptroller General Joseph Campbell says he doesn't want to ask congressmen personal questions—especially about a subject so personal as campaign funds.

He noted that, in effect, Congress is his employer, and he doesn't want to spoil what he says has been a most harmonious relationship.

The official thus voiced his objections to provisions in a proposed clean elections bill which would require him to make an accounting of campaign expenditures reports, and point out violators to the attorney general.

Anniversary Of Hiroshima Blast Marked

HIROSHIMA, Japan, Tuesday (AP)—A reborn Hiroshima today marked with bells, sirens and prayer the 12th anniversary of its atomic destruction.

Thousands gathered in Peace Memorial Park for the traditional ceremony—a moment of silent prayer for world peace and release of doves at 8:15 a.m., the instant of war's first atomic bombing Aug. 6, 1945.

The throng included a brother of Emperor Hirohito, Prince Mikasa.

The populace gathered around the white stone cenotaph at the spot where the bomb exploded. The monument is surrounded by a green, 30-acre park at a place where it was once said grass would never grow again.

"Rest ye in peace, for we (humanity) shall never repeat the mistake," says the inscription on the stone arch.

One hundred forty-five names were formally added to those of 59,833 confirmed dead.

Officers, 'Phone Company Trap Annoyer Of Women

CHICAGO (AP)—Police said a man who made a series of annoying telephone calls to wives of prominent Chicagoans over a period of two years was arrested last night as he made an extortion call to a society matron.

Robert Mettleman, 32, was seized in a tavern after police equipped with walkie-talkies traced a call to Mrs. William Wood Prince, wife of the vice chairman of Armour and Co. and head of Union Stockyards Co.

Police said an intensive man-hunt had been under way for more than a year but the caller previously eluded arrest by seldom spending more than a few minutes on the phone each time, preventing a trace of the call.

On July 16, police said, Mettleman demanded $25,000 from Mrs. Prince and threatened to slash her if she refused. He called six times since then and was arrested last night as he asked for $500.

The arrest was made in a liquor store phone booth through split-second timing by police and telephone workers.

The origin of the calls had been narrowed to an area on the South Side where teams of detectives patrolled with walkie-talkies.

They sped to the liquor store when the phone company—which had rigged a direct line to the Prince home on the Northwest Side—reported another annoying call.

Rookie Policemen Patrol New York's Youth Crime Area

NEW YORK (AP)—The city's 600 student policemen start patrolling beats tonight on shadowy streets where youth crime is most likely to erupt.

The emergency move was ordered yesterday after a hastily called meeting of city and state officials. They met to plan a counterattack against a recent rash of juvenile crime.

There have been three killings and a series of beatings and pistol fights involving teen-agers in the past 11 days.

The young rookies will be armed with nightsticks and pistols. Each rookie's beat will be linked with two others manned by experienced patrolmen.

The rookies are going into battle in such potentially dangerous areas as the Red Hook section of Brooklyn and Washington Heights in Manhattan. They will walk their beats from 6 to 12 p.m.—the critical hours for teen-age violence.

The rookies are probationary patrolmen enrolled at the police academy. They were sworn in last June 28.

The city's 23,000-man regular police force are under a special order alerting them against outbreaks of juvenile crime. Teams of detectives have been assigned to areas where youth gangsterism occurred recently.

The department also ordered a special watch on taverns that may be selling liquor or beer to youths under 18.

Church Council To Drop Charge Against Catholics

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A demand that the World Council of Churches charge the Roman Catholic Church with suppressing religious liberties in some countries today appeared likely to be dropped.

Officials, assessing sentiment at a meeting of the council's policy-making central committee here, predicted this outcome.

The proposal came last night in an impassioned speech by Methodist Bishop Sante Uberto Barbieri of Argentina, who said religious minorities are oppressed "wherever the Roman Catholic Church is dominant."

White House, Wilson Deny Budget Split

'Misinterpretation' By Newspapers Said Reason For Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both the White House and Secretary of Defense Wilson have denied reports that Wilson and President Eisenhower disagree on a proposed new budget system.

"There is no difference of opinion whatsoever," Wilson said in a statement yesterday.

"Definitely misinterpretations," said White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, commenting on newspaper accounts which said Wilson's views conflicted with Eisenhower's.

Over Budget Change

The reported difference was over a budget change bill, recommended by the Hoover Commission and supported by Eisenhower. It would provide for year-to-year appropriations by Congress for federal departments, even though some of their major projects would require money in more than one year.

Two days ago, a House Appropriations subcommittee made public a transcript of some Wilson testimony in a secret session July 1. It quoted him as saying, "I do not believe in partial financing."

In his statement yesterday, Wilson said of his subcommittee testimony: "The subject matter under discussion at the time was the so-called partial financing of procurement. I made only one passing reference to the accrued annual expenditure proposal."

Under that proposal, departments would be given only contract authority for projects extending beyond one year. They now get the cash for such programs, and the appropriations are carried over from year to year.

Wilson said his department is studying means of applying the accrued annual expenditures proposal to defense procurement.

Based On Accrued Costs

"As a matter of fact," Wilson continued, "our current determination to live within the 38 billion expenditures estimated in the President's budget last January is in effect carrying out a budget system based on accrued annual expenditures."

Before Wilson issued his statement yesterday, Hagerty had said he was told that Wilson's testimony applied to a phase of Air Force financing and not to the budget change bill.

But this was not indicated in the subcommittee transcript, which quoted Wilson:

"Even at 38 billion dollars expenditures, if we get only 36 billion dollars of new obligatory authority we cannot run at the 38 billion dollar rate very long unless we get into partial financing which Mr. McNeil (W. J. McNeil, Defense Department comptroller) and I do not believe in."

Meets Nephews, Nieces Priest Jailed By China Reds 4 Years Returns

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Father Charles J. McCarthy is getting acquainted today with nephews and nieces born during a decade he spent in the Orient, the last four years in Chinese Communist prisons.

Arrested for "ideological sabotage" at Shanghai in June 1953, the 45-year-old Jesuit priest was released last June 14 and returned to San Francisco yesterday aboard the liner President Hoover.

He was greeted by an even dozen McCarthy's—three brothers, two sisters-in-law, four nephews and three nieces. "I've dreamed of this day," he said.

Father McCarthy said he didn't see any signs of imminent collapse of the Red regime.

He told reporters of hardships he suffered in five prisons. He lost 25 pounds but has regained his normal weight and appears healthy.

"The government is cruel, crooked and deceitful—I know from experience," Father McCarthy declared. He added that there is smoldering discontent in China but the people, under strict party control, can't do anything about it.

CAIRO (AP)—Western diplomats in Cairo consider Syria has increased its dependence on the Soviet Union as a result of Russia's reported agreement to offer the Arab country technical and economic aid and to let Syria postpone paying for the arms it is buying from the Red bloc.

Arab informants said yesterday the agreements were reached in Moscow talks between Syrian Defense Minister Khaled el Azem, Army Chief of Staff Gen. Tewfik Nizam el Din and Soviet officials.

The Soviet aid offer was reported at 200 to 300 million Syrian pounds (65 to 100 million dollars).

Navy Plans To Mothball 60 Vessels

Battleship Iowa Included In Move To Cut Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy plans to put 60 ships—including the battleship Iowa and 26 other combat vessels—into mothballs soon to reduce expenses.

In announcing the cut yesterday, the Navy said there would be little effect on fighting power because of the new atomic-powered submarines and other modern vessels scheduled to join the fleet by next June.

While the older ships are being laid up, 23 new vessels and 10 ships being converted to more modern weapons will be added to the fleet, the Navy added.

Other ships to be deactivated will include 8 destroyers, 16 destroyer escorts, 2 submarines, and in the noncombat category, 5 transports, 5 landing ships, 2 attack cargo ships and 21 minesweepers and mine hunters.

The specific vessels will be picked soon, the Navy said.

The removal of the Iowa from the fleet leaves only one battleship, the Wisconsin, on active duty.

The cuts come in the wake of a Pentagon order to the Navy to reduce its personnel by 15,000 men, and to hold down spending.

Bulganin

But there has been speculation abroad that the premiership might go instead to Anastas Mikoyan, the deputy premier and economic expert named to accompany Khrushchev to East Germany.

Bulganin is widely reported to have sided with deposed Soviet leaders Georgi Malenkov and V. M. Molotov during the fateful Central Committee struggle last June 22-29. Ever since, he has taken a conspicuous back seat.

Zhukov, on the other hand, reportedly helped Khrushchev win in the struggle for power, and apparently has gained stature since.

Area Men At Police Academy

Training is being taken at the Maryland State Police Academy at Pikesville by three area men. They are Joseph W. Lechlitter and Leonard F. Glenn, both of Cumberland, and Gordon H. Smith, of Lonaconing. The three men are among a class of 55 recruits who are taking the state police training.

The last class of a comparable number was held in 1947-48 and at that time the facilities of the Department would not permit their being trained at headquarters, so the training was received in barracks at Fort George G. Meade.

Since that time, the new academy has been built, so that housing and training of a group this large is no difficult problem.

SA Officers Assume Duty In South End

The South End headquarters of the Salvation Army here is under the command of Lieutenant and Mrs. Richard A. McConnell. They succeed Lieutenant and Mrs. James Pappas.

Both Lieut. and Mrs. McConnell were commissioned at the Salvation Army's Training College in Atlanta June 6.

Lieut. McConnell, 24, is a native of North Platte, Neb., and served in the Navy as a radar operator from 1952 to 1956.

Mrs. McConnell, 20, is the former Patricia L. Ange, of Norfolk, Va.

They have one child, Richard Alfred McConnell Jr., who was born June 19.

The new corps commanders said they plan to operate the South End Corps on the same schedule as at present and expand its program as opportunities arise.

Lieut. and Mrs. McConnell will be in charge of all city operations here while Capt. and Mrs. Daniel Biggs, commanders of the Citadel are on vacation.

They left here late last week for Fort Pierce, Fla., to attend a Salvation Army Bible conference and visit relatives in the South. They will resume their duties here about August 15.

Living in the Citadel as assistants are Cadet and Mrs. Jesse Duncan, Salisbury. They have been assigned here as assistants until they enter the officer training college.

ABL Workers Give RC 141 Pints Blood

A total of 141 pints of blood was collected by the Red Cross regional bloodmobile yesterday at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory despite 22 rejections.

A quota of 150 pints had been anticipated and the quota would have been met, since 163 persons put in an appearance to give blood. However, physicians rejected 22 for various reasons. Some had recently received polio vaccine shots, others had had cases of poison ivy and others had other minor disability, making them temporarily ineligible to donate blood.

Two members were added to the county's Gallon Club. They are John E. McMahon, 911 Louisiana Avenue, and Jacob Pisarcik, 849 Gephart Drive.

Physicians on duty were Dr. Calvin Hadidian and Dr. David H. Miller.

The next sponsored visit of the bloodmobile, Allegany County Red Cross officials said, will be at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation August 19 from noon until 6 p.m.

Regular public visits with headquarters at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street, will be resumed in September.

Pathologist Plans Visit To County

Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist at the University of Maryland, will visit Allegany County today.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger said Dr. Weaver will visit Warrior Mountain and the orchard section.

Telltale Scent Leads Sheriff To Moonshine

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — After getting lost on a rural road near here while serving a jury summons, Sheriff Burton Arnold stopped at a small house to ask directions.

No one answered the knock but Arnold smelled something familiar. He walked inside and saw a variety of moonshine raw materials.

Later he and state police arrested a man at the house. Then Arnold went on to serve the jury summons.

Loses Money, Then Victim Of Robbery

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — You'll never convince Geary L. Schade, 57, that lightning never strikes twice in the same place.

Schade missed $120 from his topcoat pocket as he left a bar. As he returned to the tavern, two men told Schade they knew who had the money.

The two men drove Schade to a residential area, stopped the car and told Schade to put his hands up. Then they relieved him of another $200.

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

Rail Outlook

FOR MANY DECADES the railroads were the unchallenged masters of the American transportation network. Then along came the trucks to take away freight traffic and planes to slice into passenger revenues. Today a good share of the nation's Class I lines—those with three million dollars or more in annual volume—are in trouble. Their costs are up, their proportion of U. S. freight traffic has fallen farther, and their earnings in some cases have been trimmed this year a substantial 50 per cent. In a special report, the magazine Business Week has taken a long, hard look at the railroads and come up with some definite conclusions about their economic position.

FUNDAMENTALLY their problem now is that they have too much physical plant and too many workers for the kind of business they are doing. This establishment was created, of course, at a time when the rails had the lion's share of the transportation business. Now they have less than half the intercity freight traffic. Trucks and the ships and barges which ply our waterways carry the major proportion. But despite the percentage decline in their freight business, the rails actually are carrying more intercity cargo than they did 10 years ago. Their volume in 1956 was 647 billion ton miles, against 592 billion ton miles in 1946. The southern and western lines are in considerably better status than the eastern group. The latter depend most heavily on short haul business requiring heavy investment in cars, classification yards for making up trains, and so on. The lines in other sections have more of the profitable long-train, long-haul business.

BUT THE GENERAL outlook will not brighten, according to Business Week, unless the railroads can modernize to reduce their costs, develop faster and more flexible service and make fuller use of their facilities. There are some indications that in the future the truckers' costs may rise faster than the railroads' and this could mean an economic swing favorable to the latter. But whether their prospects do thus improve or not, clearly the railroads will be kept in being even if it takes government ownership to do it. Their basic ability to haul freight farther and faster with less fuel and less human control than their competitors require is an asset the country cannot afford to let waste away.

Part-Time Pets

IT IS COMMONLY supposed that children and pets go together like apple pie and cheese. The fact is that children, unless there is proper adult supervision, are often poor custodians of pets. When their first enthusiasm has waned, they tend increasingly to forget about such vital things as food and water. They may even neglect a pet to such an extent that it suffers for a time and then dies. This is an unpleasant truth, but it is one that should be faced. Such neglect generally does not arise from cruelty. It is simply that children often have a low continuity of interest; they go on to new things and forget about the things that interested them a few days before. The most unlikely pets are acquired in the summer. Children come trooping home from camp, for example, with such things as field mice, little snakes, baby rabbits, chipmunks or other wild life. These often are a great center of attraction for a while, and then interest fades. The poor wild creatures, confined to a box or cage, leads an unhappy existence for a time and then dies of neglect or is, perhaps, released in unfamiliar surroundings. It is good that children should develop feelings of affection for wild creatures. It is even better to temper this affection with what Albert Schweitzer calls "respect for life." Generally speaking, wild creatures are happiest in their natural surroundings, and they can best be studied and enjoyed there.

TAXPAYERS are consistent in one respect. None ever complains about the amount being too low.

Phyllis Battelle Little Woman Will Buy, But Not Discard

NEW YORK — The time approacheth shortly when the Little Woman of America will stand solemnly and alone, facing her annual August's end problem. The Little Woman is in her little house looking over her slightly wilted, mildly mildewed, remnants of summer clothes and furnishings. She will wash them, she decides, and tuck them away to rest and refurbish themselves for summers to come.

THEN, SUDDENLY, she remembers her responsibility to her country. It speaks to her now—the still, small voice of the national economy—saying: "Throw away those dresses, Madame." (And that slipcover, and that measly-screen TV set, and that luggage that's been all the way to Hoboken and back.) "We are counting on you to keep the weavers weaving and the spinners spinning and the big board booming down on Wall street . . .

"This is the age of 'planned obsolescence,' Madame. If you persist in saving things, you simply are not playing the game."

The Little Woman stops. Stews. Says finally: "I just can't. If I throw it away, I may regret it one day."

World A-Energy Group Would Help A Lot

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The other day the President signed a formal document called "an instrument of ratification" and thereby created the International Atomic Energy Agency. Twenty other countries, including Russia had already officially signed. The President's pen stroke was all that we needed to put this new agency in business.

Most of the publicity on this international agency has stressed the contribution it would make to speeding up the world use of atomic fuel for the production of electric power. This is one of its prime goals.

But the less publicized goal of the agency is the one which could let the world sleep better in the future. That will be its efforts to insure that no nuclear by-products of power and experimental reactors go into bombs.

The possibility of the development of so-called "clandestine bombs"—atomic weapons made in secrecy for nefarious purposes—has been scaring diplomats and statesmen more and more during recent years. The possession of such atomic weapons by unscrupulous, irresponsible, dictators, for example, would really mess up international relations.

UNFORTUNATELY, as the atomic energy science advances, and more reactors begin operating, the danger of clandestine bombs being built also grows. The members of the newly born organization will now begin its global nuclear sleuthing.

The real need for the agency to do this job won't become critical immediately, however. The U. S. will be supplying most of the fissionable materials to other countries for the next few years. And the rigid safeguards which the U. S. puts on them should prevent the building of any clandestine bombs in the meantime.

These safeguards are identical to those which the international agency will enforce when it begins distributing materials. So it will have the advantage of American experience in this effort for the bigger, longer job ahead.

The agreement which a country must sign to get U. S. fissionable materials states that such material "will not be used for atomic weapons, or for research on or development of atomic weapons, or for any other military purposes."

The receiving country must keep elaborate records of the storage, handling and use of these materials and send these records to the U. S. regularly.

DETAILS OF the reactor in which nuclear fuel will be used must be furnished to provide an estimate of the quality and quantity of fissionable by-products it will produce.

The receiving country also agrees to give the U. S. first chance to purchase such by-products and to let the U. S. reprocess any spent materials.

Finally, the U. S. gets the right to send experts into a country to check reports on the use of fissionable materials first-hand, if necessary. In this way there is little chance for American-produced nuclear materials to be diverted to clandestine bombs, U. S. officials believe.

These guarantees, which are demanded as a condition for getting atomic fuel for reactors, obviously tend to be irritating to receiving countries. But only India has flatly refused to accept these conditions.

CANADA and Britain, the other two countries in a position to sell fissionable materials, have said they would insist on the same guarantees.

Russia, however, says it plans to give atomic energy assistance "with no strings attached." It does not reconcile this statement with its membership in IAEA.

There is one big difference between the guarantees which will be enforced by the international agency and those included in U. S. agreements. The IAEA does not consider the use of nuclear fuel for the propulsion of submarines, airplanes or missiles as strictly military uses.

It was felt that to try to write in a ban on these uses would raise more problems than it would solve. It was further felt that the menace from these uses is not much greater than that arising from the use of conventional fuels.

THE HARDEST thing about being a real womanly woman in an age of relative prosperity is that your house inevitably must bulge at the beams. This is because women, more than any other known sex, have: A love of acquiring new possessions, mixed with a loathing for discarding anything.

Men, as far as we have observed, cling only to such small-storage items as pipes, slippers and small address books; but women will swear eternal devotion to any inanimate friend—from dolls twice the size of their own infants, to a highboy that great-grandma should have bequeathed to the Salvation Army, but didn't.

Some women tend to hide their tender sentiments under the guise of practicality. She will just keep Eunice's baby carriage in the attic, Mrs. Jones says, because when Eunice (who is now six) has a baby of her own, she may need that money for Salk vaccine and what-all.

MRS. SMITH still has, stored away, some yellow chiffon frocks from the 1920's. They were blue when Mrs. Smith was being wildly courted to the strains of the Gramophone (which is in the cellar, along with 43 Rudy Vallee records). She is keeping the dresses because "you know how fast styles change."

But most women not only are willing to admit they're sentimental, but proud of it. These are the girls with closet, cellars and attics full of "lucky" dresses, "first love" letters, celluloid clowns won at state fairs, baby's first shoes and christening robes and locks and bassinets, and old, non-functioning wedding gifts.

NONE OF THESE museum pieces, of course, has anything to do with a woman's desire for new and fresh additions to her storage dilemmas. After all, you can't take it with you, so you may as well spend accumulations of prosperity.

It all boils down to this—and I'm talking to you, small voice of the planned-obsolescence economy.

You can make a woman buy, but you can't make her discard. Inevitably, the most obsolete commodities in America will be millions of houses which a country full of sentimentalists has grown out of.

Glancing Sideways

OAXACA, Mex.—You get up at 6 o'clock in the morning, but already you are late. The roads are streaming with Indians coming in from the villages and farms.

They head for the abrupt, looming hill that looks down on the town today as it has for millennium and, for millennium, the occasion has been the same: adoration of the great Zapotec goddess, Centeotl. This is her day-of-days, when thousands cram the hillside for a festival in her honor.

IT IS LIGHT now, and down in the street, you hear the faint sounds of barefoot on the trails leading up to the hill. By 8 o'clock, feeling the urgency of time, you get into a car and ride out and up. You pass the citizens of whole villages which, for 3,000 years, have been sending their people to the festival.

They wave at you as you pass, feeling no bitterness because they have been trudging for hours to cover the ground you cover so swiftly. You find a parking space under a giant tule tree, itself hundreds of years in the making, and find your place in the seats set aside for guests. But the hillside itself, a natural amphitheater which once faced an ancient altar, is covered with humanity.

THE COLORS OF the dresses are strong, raw colors against the dun earth and the green stone of this area. The men wear vivid blankets over their shoulders.

In the center, where once Centeotl was venerated for her lavish gifts of corn and produce, is a raised wooden platform on which, at 10 o'clock, the regional dancers will perform the old, old rhythms of a happy time before the Spanish came in conquest.

The Oaxacan sun beats down, hot and strong, and soon the Indian shawls screen heads and faces. Presently, the Governor arrives and takes his seat. From far down the hill you hear faint cheers. The dancers are arriving: Zapotec, Mixtec, Tehuana, and other tribes, come from miles to dance out the feat of thanks.

Spicy, aromatic odors arise from charcoal stoves broiling and frying pungent native dishes and foods so ancient that their origins are lost in time. The combined odors of the thick, rich moles and Oaxacan tamales, unlike any others anywhere, together with the charcoal fanned by woven straw make a heady mixture.

THE FAMED Oaxacan band, winner year after year of the honor of being the best band in Mexico, strikes up a regional song. Men stand and remove their hats. When it is ended there is a flash of color and the plumed dancers, wearing gorgeously dyed feathers in a fan across their heads, come to the platform and perform the most primitive of the rhythms.

They are all men. But when their dance is ended, the Zapotec girls, gorgeously gowned in the ancient costumes, come to the platform to do the orange blossom dance. Then a Mixtec group of four men and four women dance a rhythm, both ardent and, at times, mildly suggestive.

They are followed by the Tehuana women—eight tall, poised, stately girls, taller by far than any of the others. They move slowly and with infinite pride. They never hasten or relax from extreme dignity. They wear the "baby dress" head pieces of lace which have a history.

In the early 1600's a Spanish ship was wrecked at Tehuantepec. In its cargo was a chest of lace baby dresses. The Indian women seized these and not knowing what they were, put the skirts on their heads, with the bodices and little sleeves hanging down their backs. Starched, the skirts made a beautiful, fanned headdress.

Some Swim, Others Dry Up

M'LEAN, Va. — I hate to blame a rich neighbor for my continuing troubles, but he built a swimming pool de luxe and pumped up 25,000 gallons of water to fill it. This turned scummy.

He pumped another 25,000 gallons and there was my poor bride in her own back yard, desperate over the fact that one of her cypress trees was drooping and two of her prize bushes were losing their leaves.

While the wealthy one disported himself in the blue depths of the pool filled with the second installment of my 50,000 gallons, Mrs. O. turned the pitifully small stream from her garden hose on the drought-stricken flora. I could hear our old pump going chunkety-chunk in the well house.

AFTER ABOUT ten minutes of this the water stopped and nothing came out of that hose but compressed air. It hissed like a tire pump in a filling station. I quickly checked the pressure gauge on the water tank. 40 pounds. All air.

So in this, my third installment on the worst drought to hit Fairfax County in memory of the oldest resident, I must report that we went to bed that night without washing our teeth. There was nothing liquid in the house, except a bottle of French dressing.

WE STOPPED the machinery and next morning there was enough water flowing back into our well to give us quick showers. You've no idea how luxurious a bath can seem when you've been wondering if you'll ever get another.

For six weeks now we've had no rain except for a few sprinkles that turned to steam on the driveway. I suppose we don't live right; showers fall all around us, but never where we need them. One afternoon I watched a heavy rain in the distance. The papers said nearly an inch had fallen at the airport 15 miles away. Made me thirsty to read about it.

Again, I was standing in the sun in the back yard, watching a downpour in my own pasture 100 yards away. This rain lasted for less than a minute and soon hot mists were rising from the parched grass.

WERE BETTER off, even so, than some of our friends. One of those, who raises horses, has no grass left whatever. So Mrs. O. has taken two of his mares and the latter's colts on our own pasture, through which runs the stream I mowed a month ago. It still has no water in it, but in its bed the grass is green. The horses find it delightful.

Trouble is, my kindly bride has provided them with a block of salt. This keeps them thirsty and we've got to pump them water from the rickety supply in

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—One of the subjects hands like to discuss is the odd behavior of their wives.

The other evening I was attending an informal kitchen caucus of husbands at a party, when one suddenly volunteered: "The thing I can't understand about my wife is why she likes to get up and prow around the house at night after everyone else is asleep."

There was a moment's silence, then every other husband present exclaimed in a surprised chorus: "Does your wife do that, too?" Well, apparently all wives are prowling in somnolence.

What do the wives do after they get up? Here are a few replies the husbands made.

"MY WIFE STARES down at me, mutters, 'How can you sleep so peacefully, you big oaf?', and then goes into the living room, curls up on the sofa and watches the late late show."

"Mine fixes herself some hot milk, then reads last week's newspapers."

"Mine just gets out a picture of us on our wedding day—and yawns at it."

"Mine likes to fix windows. If they're open she closes them. If they are closed, she opens them."

The question then arose as to why the average wife can't sleep eight hours without getting up to make at least one midnight or pre-dawn patrol of the house.

"My wife says it's because there was too much garlic in the salad," said one.

"My wife just says she's restless," observed another and several husbands remarked their wives had made the same excuse.

"You know why I think they can't sleep at night?" offered one young hen-pecked husband. "It's because their conscience is bothering them—for all the mean things they said to us the day before."

COULD THIS REALLY be possible? The husbands looked at each other in wild surmise.

"Nonsense!" broke in a time-worn old husband, wise in the ways of wives.

"It isn't insomnia—and it isn't their conscience. Did you ever stay alone and watch how wives operate? They work half an hour, then flop on a couch and nap for 15 minutes."

"Then they get up and go to the grocery store, and come home and nap for 15 minutes. Then they get up and dust the furniture for half an hour, then flop on the couch for another quick quarter hour of shut-eye. So it goes all day long."

"By nightfall they've put in a 12-hour day, all right, just like they brag. But one third of the time—four full hours—they spend taking naps. No wonder they complain they can't sleep at night, and get up and prow the house."

Well, wives? We pause for reply.

WASHINGTON—Just before his recent stroke, retired Fleet Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey made a trip across the continent to fight for the preservation of the old flagships, the aircraft carrier Enterprise. He was accompanied by Senator Warren G. Magnuson, of Washington, who served under him as a lieutenant commander in World War II.

The two old salts head a crusade to save the "Fighting Lady," as the U.S.S. Enterprise is known, in much the same manner as public subscription helped save "Old Ironsides," the U.S.S. Constitution. They arrived in Seattle, which is Senator Magnuson's home town, and put on quite a pitch.

AFTER THE RALLY, which was attended by other alumni of the "Fighting Lady," everybody got reminiscing about the old days on shipboard. They asked what had happened to this old shipmate, and that.

Finally Senator Magnuson said to Admiral Halsey: "You remember that fellow who was with us in the Pacific—he was sort of your right hand man—I think his name was Brown—whatever became of him?"

Bull Halsey laughed: "That fellow," as you choose to call him, is now Vice Admiral Charles R. Brown. He is commander of the 6th Fleet—in charge of our naval striking and support force in the Mediterranean."

Senator Magnuson nodded sagely: "I had a hunch he would get along in the navy. Have you heard from him lately?"

"I haven't heard 'from' him, but I've heard 'of' him," chuckled Admiral Halsey. "Arleigh Burke (Chief of Naval Operations Admiral Arleigh A. Burke) told me a wonderful story about him."

The 74-year-old Bull, whose great spirit always bubbled with humor, gave vent to another outburst of mirth, then continued: "A few days before Britain and France joined Israel in the attack on Suez, Navy Intelligence got wind of impending trouble, with the result that Admiral Burke sent an alert to Admiral Brown."

"Be alerted," Burke advised Brown. "There may be war."

Bull Halsey threw back his head and roared again. Senator Magnuson asked what was so funny.

"Admiral Brown's reply!" gasped Bull. "He cabled Admiral Burke, 'All right, I'm alerted. Which side are we on?'"

OUR PEACHES are ripe and biting into one is an experience. No juice. An Othman peach fresh from the tree is chewy like a dried apricot. The spruce trees are producing an unusually large number of seed cones. This is nature's way of combatting drought. If the trees die, there'll be plenty of seeds to make new ones.

This may be a good idea in the forest primeval, but I can't wait so long. What I mean, friends, is let's fill no more swimming pools until we've had a couple of weeks of rain.

NOT SIMPLE

THERE HAS been much talk about turning some federal government functions back to the states. Discussion was stimulated by President Eisenhower's proposal for a cooperative study of the matter.

There is merit in the idea of giving certain functions back to the individual states. But even the most ardent opponents of big centralized government must admit that many difficulties would be encountered.

Some of these were hinted at by Meyer Kestenbaum, the President's adviser on federal-state relations, in testimony before a House subcommittee. He was not optimistic about the prospects for giving states more authority. "A big country," he said, "requires a big government; the bigger it gets, the bigger the government."

One obstacle to the return of functions to the states, said Kestenbaum, lies in the willingness of congressmen to work hard for their constituents. "If Congress feels it must take responsibility for every problem that arises," he warned, "the sessions will get longer and the appropriations will get larger."

As to the question of taxes to support programs taken over by states, Kestenbaum was justifiably pessimistic. It is all very well to say that the states should be doing some things now done in Washington.

It would be relatively easy for Congress to unburden the federal government of certain programs. But if they are to be continued at the state level, the programs will have to be paid for at that level. This is the big problem.

WASHINGTON

THE BILL TO construct a high federal dam at Hell's Canyon was killed in the House Interior Committee the other day. But it would have been done to death two weeks sooner if the Republican leadership hadn't been so Hell's Canyon-bent to have it killed and buried.

The assignment to damn the dam had been given by the White House to the ranking minority member of the committee, Rep. A. L. (Doc) Miller, of Nebraska. Doc Miller knew the vote would be close, so he made it his personal business to round up all the GOP members of the committee.

A couple of minutes before the vote was due to be taken, Rep. John P. Saylor, of Pennsylvania, started from his office in the old House Office Building, for the Capitol. He was far down the corridor when a phone call came for him. His receptionist ran after him, and summoned him back.

The caller was Rep. Miller, reminding him to hurry over and vote. Saylor did—but the time he consumed in going back to take the call made him too late.

By the time he reached the committee room, those who wanted to keep the bill alive had voted that no quorum was present, and forced an adjournment.

Report Shows Income Drop At Celanese

NEW YORK (AP)—The Celanese Corporation of America today reported net income of $5,614,890 after charges and taxes, for the six months ended June 30, equal to 56 cents a share of common stock, compared with last year's first half earnings of $6,185,602, equal to 65 cents a share.

Net sales for the first half amounted to $95,304,991 compared with $94,421,267 for the 1956 period.

For the three months ended June 30 net income was $2,701,070, equal to 26 cents a common share compared with $2,723,836, also 26 cents a common share a year ago. Net sales for the second quarter amounted to $48,452,060, compared with last year's second quarter sales of $45,943,380.

President Harold Blanche said profits were affected during the six-months period by high costs incurred in bringing into production the new low pressure polyethylene plastics plant near Houston, as well as certain chemical product facilities. Another factor, he said, was the cost of introducing these new products to the market.

Blanche said the company's chemicals and plastics business continued on an upward trend, with sales volume in each reaching an all-time high. He said that sales of textile yarns and fibers had been "soft" but added better business is anticipated in the second half of the year.

Rep. Hyde has obtained a flag that was flown over the Capitol, for use in the ceremony. He will present the flag to Mr. Conlon, who will present it to a color guard for the flag raising. The color guard is being furnished by the Marine Corps recruiting service.

An open house inspection of the new postal facility will follow the short ceremony, at which time visitors will be given souvenirs. Employees of the station will be present to conduct visitors through the station and explain operations.

In order to accommodate the crowd in front of the building during the dedication and open house, arrangements have been made with the Police Department to rope off that section of Virginia Avenue.

The new single story, modern building contains 4,416 square feet of interior space, 576 square feet of platform space and 1,440 square feet of parking area for postal vehicles. The Post Office Department began using the new facility August 1, moving from the old station at the corner of Virginia Avenue and Third Street.

Doctors To Fish 'All For Science'

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Four doctors at the Medical College of Virginia took a lot of ribbing from associates when they departed for Florida and a week of "scientific fishing."

"I hate fishing," said Dr. E. Lovell Becker, head of the MCV renal electrolyte (kidney) laboratory. "I can't understand anybody who has nothing better to do than to sit all day and fish."

Object of the trip, which has been four years in the making and was prefaced by a stack of correspondence four inches thick, is to discover as much as possible about as many types of fish as the group can obtain. They hope to discover something of the evolutionary development of kidneys — how they overcome changes in environment.

Save Energy In Outdoor Cleaning

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Isn't it surprising how tidy the living room stays when the family shifts its summer living to the revamped carport, the screened addition to the garage, a patio or not-so-grassy plot? On the other hand, a Monday morning survey after a fun-filled weekend records all too plainly where young and old alike have been gathering for relaxation.

To straighten up the place and keep it looking more presentable, adapt indoor housekeeping routines to outdoor or semi-outdoor requirements.

Adding a metal or plastic wastebasket will remind little paper-droppers not to scatter gum and candy wrappers quite so freely. Substituting closed ash trays for open ones will corral ashes, matches and stubs for easy disposal. If the summer room is any distance from the house, invest in a new broom to store conveniently close by.

Where the "floor" is grass or gravel, use a fine-toothed rake around tables and chairs to comb out extraneous material. Then hose it to settle the dust and dissolve sticky spills that attract insects.

Concrete or cement floors may pose a different problem. Sometimes, especially in converted carports, these are unsealed and show a porous, powdery surface which is difficult to clean and can grow worse with age. If this is the case, the floor may need to be sealed with a cement hardening agent.

When washing any plain cement floor or one in which stone or tile is set in concrete, wet it first, then scrub with synthetic detergent solution. Rinse or hose off the detergent promptly.

A dry concrete floor can also be painted for better appearance and easier maintenance.

An occasional thin coat of wax can be applied to cement (painted or sealed), tile or stone. It gives a protective finish from which dust, crumbs and such can be swept or damp-mopped with less effort and more shining results. Homemakers experimenting with antiskid, water-repellent waxes have reported that they also can be used successfully on exposed patios or courtyards.

WAX HELPS—Sweeping and mopping of this stone floor is made easier with a thin application of antiskid water-repellent wax.

Carter, RD 1, Oldtown, seeking an injunction to prevent the respondent's interference with his use of an access road to his property from Wagner Road. The plaintiff states that Carter has threatened him, has placed trees and logs across the road and has placed nails, glass and other objects in the road.

He said that since the Mayor and Council has a meeting with Mr. Register scheduled Thursday night, yesterday's meeting could have been held after Thursday.

He also said that if the estimates were in three weeks ago he did not see why there had to be a special meeting.

Both Mr. Long and Police Commissioner William V. Keegan wanted to know why the plan did not go into operation on June 1, the scheduled date for completion.

Tax Refunds Unclaimed By 11 In Section

Money May Be Obtained By Applying To State Office

Eleven Cumberland area residents are entitled to a share of the $12,000 or $13,000 being held by the State Comptroller's office in Baltimore.

The 11 area taxpayers are among about 1,000 who are entitled to refunds, and have not been located by Comptroller J. Millard Tawes.

The area group, with addresses which appear at the Income Tax Division in Annapolis, follow:

Oscar R. Berry, 2605 Beale Avenue; Richard A. Bingham, RD 3; Flossie B. Durst, RD 3; William G. and Patricia Fisher, 207 Washington Street; Lennie D. Hudson, 623 Fairview Avenue; Omer C. Hoffman (or Huffman), 237 Henderson Avenue; Mervin H. Kyle, RD 2, Williams Road; Rennie L. Teler, RD 3, Bedford Road; Carl L. Valentine, 223 Humboldt Street; James L. Knepp, 10 Hill Street; Frostburg, and Ernest J. White, 405 Real Street, Frostburg.

Although there is no Real Street in Frostburg or Beale Avenue in Cumberland, these addresses are listed at the Annapolis office.

The area residents may obtain the refunds by writing the Income Tax Division at Annapolis, giving their Social Security numbers and present addresses.

Tawes said refunds were mailed to these taxpayers, but were returned by the Post Office because of incorrect addresses, and no forwarding addresses.

Tawes said this year's list is much smaller than last year. This year a total of 412,000 refunds were mailed out and only 1,000 came back. Last year 190,000 were mailed out and 2,000 came back.

Tawes said the difference probably was due to the fact that the refunds were mailed earlier this year, and fewer persons moved or changed address before they received the refunds.

Major Algieri said the first 13 weeks of their training will be at Parris Island, and then they will be transferred to Camp Lejeune, N. C., where they will undergo advanced combat training.

After completing the six months training the group will return to the local organization.

Man Receives $8 For Nine Killed Sheep

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today paid an unusual claim.

W. C. Crabtree, of the Oldtown section, made a claim for nine sheep which were killed recently by a dog. He asked for $123, but the board ordered he be paid only the amount of the assessment on the sheep, which is $8. This is the procedure followed by law.

The sheriff's office checked into the sheep killing incident. Crabtree informed the officers he had killed the dog which had attacked and killed the nine sheep.

Midland Told To Establish Garbage Plan

The town of Midland has been ordered by the Allegany County Health Department to compile a set of garbage collection regulations and provide a site for a dump to eliminate an unsanitary condition in the community.

Dr. W. Ross Cameron, acting county health officer, sent a copy of a letter to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners noting that the mayor and council of Midland had been notified of the situation.

Dr. Cameron said sanitarians of the department had checked into the Midland situation and found that there is no system of garbage collection and trash and refuse is dumped in streams and along county roads.

In his letter Dr. Cameron noted that Frostburg, Westernport and Lonaconing operate a garbage collection system. The health official also said that the Town of Westernport has complained of the dumping of trash in Georges Creek, which flows through that community. He also noted that the Upper Potomac River Board has also complained about the trash dumping in the stream.

It was suggested by the health official that the community of Midland set up the regulations with the assistance of Health Department personnel and then arrange to have someone contract to haul the garbage. The individual property owners would pay for the collection of garbage.

Letters Help Will Register In His Duties

State Officials Tell What Makes Up Law Practice

What constitutes the duty of a public servant, and when does that duty become unauthorized practice of law?

That has been the subject of an interpretation between a special Allegany County Bar Association committee and the county's register of wills, A. Charles Stewart.

Twice in three months, Stewart has received opinions from the State Law Department as to what constitutes unauthorized practice of law.

Asks For Views

He requested them after the special bar association committee discussed some of the services by its deputies to persons in his office to the public.

Stewart then asked the attorney general's office for an interpretation of this key section of Maryland law relating to his office:

"In the recess of the Orphans Court, he (the Register of Wills), may receive inventories and accounts of sales, examine vouchers and state guardians' and administrators' accounts, subject to the review of and final passage or rejection by the Orphans Court."

Alexander Harvey II, assistant attorney general, wrote Stewart that when the register of wills tentatively passes an account of an estate when Orphans Court is not in session, he clearly is not engaging in the unauthorized practice of law.

However, Harvey said the attorney general's office does not interpret this section as permitting the register of wills to prepare guardians' and administrators' accounts.

The preparation of these accounts, Harvey said, is the responsibility of the fiduciary or his council, and the register of wills duty in this connection is to examine accounts submitted to him.

May Cite Errors

He may call to the attention of the person responsible for handling the estate, or his counsel, any errors that have been made.

"If the account's submitted in proper form, it should be passed by you, subject to review and final passage or rejection by the Orphans Court," Harvey concluded.

In the first opinion received March 21, the attorney general's ruling was on these bar association recommendations to Stewart: "That no advice be given lay persons as to their legal rights, duties or obligations."

"No forms should be prepared by any one in your office. It is proper to give out whatever printed forms you have, but these forms may not be filled out nor any advice given concerning how they should be filled out or completed."

"No one in your office is permitted by law to prepare an account. These must be prepared by the lawyer representing the personal representative of an estate or a guardian, after which they may be submitted to your office for approval. Changes in the account are also to be made by counsel."

To Follow Ruling

To this, Assistant Attorney General Harvey ruled that the recommendations made by the Allegany County Bar Association are generally in accord with the law relating to unauthorized practice of law and "should be followed by you and those employed in your office."

The attorney general did say that under circumstances set

Man Dies As His Car Turns Over In Field

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — A Pendleton County young man was killed Saturday when a car he was driving turned over on Route 33 about seven miles east of Franklin, state police reported.

The victim of the accident was identified as James Pitsenberger, 23, of Brandywine.

The young man was driving from Harrisonburg, Va., to Franklin, when the accident occurred, state police said.

Police said the driver apparently lost control of the vehicle for some 200 yards on a sharp curve and that when it turned over he was hurled a distance of 60 yards into a field along the highway.

Cpl. French W. Armstrong of the Franklin detachment of State Police investigated.

Mr. Pitsenberger was born at Brandywine Dec. 15, 1933, a son of Everett Russell and Shirley Propst Pitsenberger. His father died some years ago and his mother is Mrs. Shirley Rexrode of Fort Sybert, Mo.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by a brother, Gerald O. Pitsenberger of Brandywine. Mr. and Mrs. Wade Pitsenberger are the paternal grandparents and Mrs. Julia A. Propst the maternal grandmother.

Services were conducted today at the Martin Luther Church at Brandywine. Interment was in Pine Hill Cemetery.

Selection Of County Health Head Held Up

Another delay in selecting a successor to Dr. Winter R. Frantz as health officer for the Allegany County Department of Health has arisen.

Dr. Edward Davens, executive director of the State Department of Health, informed the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today that a proposal in an interview with Dr. Thomas Robinson concerning the post has not been accepted by the physician.

Dr. Davens said the plan was for some local physician to take the post after obtaining a degree in public health from the University of Pittsburgh. Now that the proposal has been turned down the state department will intensify its recruitment program and try to obtain the services of a physician with a degree in public health work.

Dr. Davens added:

The county post has been vacant since Dr. Frantz's retirement last May and since that time the administrative part of the post has been handled by Mrs. Jennie Grahame, administrative assistant. Dr. W. Ross Cameron, Hagerstown, the Washington County health officer, has been acting health officer for this county since Dr. Frantz retired.

Dr. Robinson, son of Mrs. H. T. Robinson, 713 Montgomery Avenue, had practiced here as a pediatrician for several years before giving up his practice last summer to accept a post with a Muncie, Ind., clinic.

Police Post Attracts Four

Four local women have submitted applications for the position of regular policewoman, according to Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn.

Chief Flynn said this morning no deadline has been established for applications, but indicated it is hoped a large number of women will apply for the position.

Flynn said the woman selected will receive regular patrolman's salary and other benefits including pensions, sick leave and vacation.

The chief noted that the woman will not be required to make arrests, but only to furnish information so police can pick up offenders.

Applications are available in the chief's office and the office of Police Commissioner William V. Keegan.

County Board Gets Request On Road Work

Ruts And Drainage Among Problems Cited By Residents

A number of road complaints were heard today by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

A group of 12 residents of Avenue E in Potomac Park appeared before the board to ask that something be done about the ruts and drainage problem on the road.

The group has obtained rights of ways with the view of having the road taken into the county system at some future date. The commissioners said they would have something done about the ruts and also attempt to solve the drainage problem.

Hardsurfacing of the roadway will not be possible this year, the group was told. It was brought out that the road is very steep and during heavy rains the surface water from the mountain above the properties washes down onto U. S. Route 220.

A petition signed by 24 residents of Pershing Drive at Fairgo requests that repairs be made to the thoroughfare. The matter is being turned over to the Roads Department.

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buser asks that a three-mile section of the Lower Town Creek Road be hardsurfaced. The section listed is between Flintstone and Oldtown. The Busers said nothing has been done concerning the three-mile section during the past five years. The letter was referred to the Roads Department.

Another discussion was held today concerning the Bear Camp Road in the section adjacent to the Pennsylvania State line north of Flintstone.

Earl E. Manges, attorney, appeared before the board on behalf of a family which seeks school bus service for their child. It was suggested that Manges confer with Board of Education officials in an attempt to work out the problem.

Temperature Drops To 36

The temperature dropped to 36 degrees in the Oakland area early today and Cumberland had an official low of 46 degrees.

Refreshing breezes started yesterday afternoon and by night it had become rather cool. The high temperature yesterday here was 74 degrees and at noon it was 72 degrees.

R. E. Weber, official weather observer at Oakland, said yesterday's high there was 68 degrees and at noon today was 65 degrees with brisk breezes. Weber said there might have been a light sprinkle of frost in some spots but the breezes probably kept it from doing any damage.

The forecast for tonight is fair and quite cool and an overnight low ranging from 43 to 50 degrees. Tomorrow will be mostly sunny and warmer.

Business Man Complains Of Police Action

PIEDMONT — Edward Laughlin, proprietor of The Rendezvous on Ashfield Street, met with the Mayor and Council last night to inquire as to why police officers apparently have been checking the front of his business place for several days.

Laughlin stated that officers stood as long as two hours at a time directly across the street. He claimed their presence was harmful to his establishment.

Councilman Joseph Maybury replied that police had not been authorized to check his place alone, and that considerable complaints had been received about loud noises, misconduct and beer drinking in automobiles in the general area.

Maybury pointed out that council was not complaining about how Laughlin operated his business, but that police want to break up misconduct on the street. He told Laughlin the problem did not necessarily involve him.

The condition on the street has improved, Maybury stated, but it recurs it will be policed again from the corner of Ashfield and Third Streets to the West Virginia-Maryland interstate bridge.

With officers staying at long periods of time in front of his place, Laughlin added, the remainder of the town is not being properly policed.

John Golder was granted permission to lay a temporary sidewalk of blacktop in front of his place of business on Lyons Street. He stated that if any of the adjacent properties put in a concrete sidewalk he would remove the blacktop and follow suit. The estimate for laying blacktop was $150 and for concrete, $450.

Martin Weakley, East Hampshire Street, complained of water running onto his property and about a sewer near his property that was leaking. He was assured by Maybury that the situation would be remedied.

Three building permits were granted as follows: Henry Garland to repair a house at 14 Water Street; Pete Panpinto, 16 West Hampshire Street, to fix a sidewalk and concrete block porch; and Thomas J. Martin, West Fairview, to build a concrete block double garage, 24 by 24 feet.

Resignations Of Parsons Councilmen Read, Accepted

PARSONS — The resignations of John H. Wilson and Wallace Bennett, members of the Parsons Town Council, were read and accepted by council at their regular meeting in the town building.

Wilson is councilman from Ward 1 and Bennett from Ward 2. Council appointed Harold Shaffer of Ward 1 to replace Wilson. The Ward 2 councilman will be named in the near future.

It was brought to the attention of council that cars were being parked at the post office for long periods of time each day. A motion was made by Mrs. B. F. Harris and seconded by Tracy Nestor that five-minute parking signs be placed at the side and front of the structure where parking is free. The motion carried.

It was also suggested that something might be done to get property owners to clean and mow vacant lots in the town. Council members agreed to announce through the newspapers that the community would appreciate having lots kept clean.

Council ordered "Children At Play" signs placed at the intersection of First, Second and Third Streets on Spruce Street. The recorder, Tracy Nestor, was asked to notify the owner of the Ours property on Pennsylvania Avenue to remove or trim trees which are in front of his property and bordering on the street. A building permit was granted to Glenn N. Funkhouser to construct an addition to his home on Walnut Street.

The printing of the revised town ordinances was discussed, but no action taken. Veldon Linn, local representative of the Monongahela Power Company, was present and read a letter concerning the new mercury vapor lights being considered for First Street. No definite estimate was available as to the cost, but the installation of wire under the sidewalks will be $9 a foot.

A motion was made by Willard but no action taken.

The Youth Fellowship of Salem United Church of Christ will hold a recreation party Sunday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. on the church lawn, weather permitting. In case of inclement weather the affair will be moved indoors to the recreation room.

This will be the first meeting of the reorganized youth group of the church.

New officers elected recently include Patty Minick, president; William Ewing, first vice president and Faith Commission chairman; Linda Folk, second vice president and Fellowship chairman; William Ward, third vice president and Action Commission chairman; Donna Wellings, secretary and Roy Ewing, treasurer.

Wilson and seconded by Ona Hovatter that the town laborers be given a five-cent an hour wage increase, effective August 1. The motion carried.

A communication was read from the State Road Commission, stating that the town owes a bill in the amount of $982.36 for work done in the Pulp Mill Bottom during the past winter. Of this amount $621.60 is for rental of machinery used and $360.76 for labor.

At a former meeting of council this project was discussed with several other groups present, and at the time a representative of the VFW said they would take care of most of the expenses and were to also solicit funds from individuals for this purpose. The Pulp Mill Bottom, site of the former Parsons Pulp and Lumber Company, was cleaned of debris with the hopes of using the site for a future industry. As part of a flood control project, a dike was constructed from the debris.

Since the community had no funds to cover such an expense, the bill was turned over to Town Attorney W. Del Roy Harner.

It made only one short paragraph in most Sunday papers, but the report about young Stewart (Stov) Brown winning the national junior snipe sailing championship is big news to members of the Deep Creek Lake Yacht Club.

The 17-year-old Baltimore youth happens to belong to the Deep Creek club and is one of its most capable skippers.

The fact that he won the national title by taking two of three races during the two-day event at Lake Peoria, Ill., this past weekend came as no surprise to the Deep Creekers, but it did furnish them with a feeling of pride. After all, Stov was their representative at the national event.

From the time he was a youngster in grade school, young Brown has been interested in sailing, his father taking him regularly to the Garrett County resort during the summer months. He handles snipes with a degree of skill and confidence seldom seen around these parts for a boy his age.

Modest and personable, Stov goes about his sailing tasks like an "old salt." He is forever trying to learn more about the sport. At yachting get-togethers you'll find him conversing with veteran skippers, hoping to gain some of the knowledge they picked up through years of experience. He also is an avid reader of sailing literature.

His national victory and the showings he made against tonight's senior competition are made even more remarkable by the fact he sails one of the oldest snipes still engaged in racing.

This coming weekend will find young Stov steering his snipe around the Deep Creek course he knows so well. This will be a warm-up session for the following weekend when he goes to Akron, Ohio to represent Deep Creek's club in a quadrangular meet on Portage Lakes.

Serving as his "one-man crew" will be his younger brother, 15-year-old Taylor, who also helped him win the national crown.

Although hailing from Baltimore, the Browns are well known throughout the Deep Creek area. Stov's father, Stewart Sr., is one of the originators of the club and his grandfather, whose name was also Stewart, was a pioneer in the development of Deep Creek Lake as a popular summer resort.

Sports Keg Residue

Enroute to Hawaii from Japan, where he conducted a football clinic for the armed forces, the plan-carrying Rip Engle ran into a severe electrical storm. "It was like spending a Saturday afternoon on the sideline," says the Penn State coach. "But," he adds philosophically, "lots of people probably think I never see the bright side." . . . That same thing, in our way of thinking, could be said of a lot of football coaches. . . . Most of them are born pessimists. . . . Jose Cortinas, formerly of Cuba, now of Los Angeles, has failed in a second attempt on the Mississippi River to conquer the world's swimming endurance record of 292 miles. . . . The 220-pound six-footer was exhausted when pulled from the river yesterday after a 43-hour swim in which he covered 147 miles. . . . Cor-

Hot National Race May Have Strange Windup

First-Place Cards Have Road Mark Of 30-18

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

With less than eight weeks remaining, that bustling National League pennant race may have a strange windup. The honored home advantage may prove to be like Jonah and the whale—it ain't necessarily so.

St. Louis, in first place by half a game, has more games remaining on the road (29) than at home (22). But the Cards are tops in the league with a 30-18 road mark for a .625 percentage.

Second-place Milwaukee has 25 left at home, 25 left on the road—but it shouldn't matter either way. The Braves are exactly the same at home (31-21) as away.

Dodgers Best At Home
Brooklyn's third-place Dodgers are best at home with a 31-20 record and play 26 of their remaining 50 at Ebbets Field. But that home bulge is padded with a 16-4 record against the tailenders and the remaining 26 games in Ebbets are split evenly among contenders and the three-team second division.

Cincinnati splits its remaining 50 at home and away, with a 30-22 record at Crosley Field and a 28-24 mark abroad. Philadelphia has 26 remaining at home, 23 away, but the Phillies have been only slightly better in Connie Mack Stadium (28-23) than on the road (29-25).

The Dodgers added to their "get fat" trick against the Little Three with a 5-2 victory over the New York Giants last night in the only NL game scheduled. Cleveland ended the New York Yankees' winning streak at eight games with a 7-2 decision in the only American League contest.

Mays Sparkles
The Brooks, now 2½ games out of first, broke a 2-2 tie with a fifth-inning run that scored without a hit, then added two more in the seventh to overcome Willie Mays' one-man show for the Giants. The Dodgers couldn't stop Mays, who had four hits including his 23rd homer good for two runs, until they had to.

Mays came up with two out and two on in the ninth. Clem Labine relieved Don Drysdale and nailed Willie on an infield grounder. Ray Crone lost it, with the Brooks taking the lead as Junior Gilliam walked stole second and moved around on a long fly and Elmer Valo's infield chopper. Mike Garcia, who hadn't beaten the Yankees since Aug. 3, 1955, got the job done for the Indians with a nine-hitter. He walked six, but left 11 runners on base and was backed up by Gene Woodling's homer and a bases-loaded single that drove in five runs. Don Larsen lost it to remain winless against Cleveland in his career.

Grayson Raps Bob Feller For Hitting Game

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

CLEVELAND — (NEA) — Now that he is out of it, Bob Feller is getting more publicity blasting organized baseball than he did while striking out 348 batters in a single season.

While Feller most certainly has a point here and there, present and past players agree that the former fireballer is the last man in the world who should find fault with baseball owners and the game which took him off an Iowa farm and made him rich.

Feller was paid $80,000 a season for years, a princely salary as a magnificent hanger-on. When he could no longer get anybody out, the one-time Bullet Bob was offered a position in the Cleveland front office. He gets the full benefit of a fantastic pension plan from which the noble athletes cruelly eliminated all the great men who played so well prior to 1947.

The fortune and fame Feller earned as a pitcher made it possible for him to become president of a highly successful insurance agency, set up his current nationwide tour for a television set manufacturer. He has a sumptuous home at Gates Mills, hard by Cleveland, had similar establishments in Texas and Florida. There is a car in every garage and he flies his own plane.

When Feller takes a poke at the reserve clause, it would seem that he recalls what he missed in a financial way when Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis died not make him a free agent shortly after he broke in with the Indians at 17.

General manager Cy Slapnicka resorted to subterfuge in signing the precocious youngster, but commissioner Landis feared that the wild bidding would have a bad effect on the lad. The Yankees, Red Sox and Tigers opened at $250,000.

Feller pops off as president of a rather vague Players' Association. Dizzy Dean never came close to collecting Feller's kind of money in baseball, but hardly feels that the hired hands are in involuntary servitude.

"Feller is least qualified to

Circuit Kings Yet Undecided In Kids' Loop

At least two more games remain before championships will be decided in the Dapper and Dan divisions of the Dapper Dan Little League.

The Giants won the second-half title in the Dapper circuit yesterday with an 8-6 victory over Yankees at Post Field. The Giants and Yankees, first-half kings, will clash tomorrow, 6 p. m., also at Post Field, to determine the league victor.

Sox Eliminate A's

Red Sox, opening-half victor in the Dan Division, eliminated Athletics from the three-way tie for second-half honors yesterday, 10-0. The Sox will meet Phillies Thursday, 4 p. m., at East Side Field. A win for the Red Sox gives them both titles while a Phillies' triumph sets the stage for another playoff between the clubs for league honors.

Probably Next Monday

Giants and Yankees had finished with 5-1 records in the second half while Red Sox, Phillies and A's wound up in a triple heat with 4-2 marks. Senators took both halves of the Abrams Division, getting the final victory Saturday in beating Indians, 13-3. Manager Jim Long's Giants staged a six-run rally in the second to sew up yesterday's contest. Bill Seeders supplied the batting punch with four hits, including a double.

Mike Miller had a double and two singles and Jerry Young hit a pair of singles for the winners. Clark and Hudson collected a pair of hits each for the losers.

Hardinger Wins Seventh

Harold Hardinger, Red Sox southpaw, held Athletics to three hits in tossing the shutout. It was his seventh win in eight decisions with nine of the A's going down on strikeouts.

Jim Bell had a triple with John Cross and Jan Withrow getting singles off Hardinger. Withrow suffered his first defeat after three conquests.

Homer Hardinger, Richard Robinson and Harold Hardinger shared six of the Sox 10 hits with Homer Hardinger and Craig blasting triples.

The league will meet today, 7:30 p. m., at the City Rec Department to map plans for playoffs and the trip to Pittsburgh this Saturday. The return of uniforms and equipment will also be discussed.

"Ace" Warnick and Johnny Johnson shared four of the winners' eight hits while Cook socked two of the five safeties yielded by Woody Symons.

Carl Donald pitched a two-hit shutout but it wasn't enough to put 'Coney in first place. The Lonaconing hurler fanned 11 in posting the 2-0 victory. Crowe and Hosteller had the lone bingles while Rodney Johnson had two of 'Coney's eight blows and Hank Winner socked a double.

Midland took over fourth place in whipping Wright's Crossing, 10-2, with the losers falling to fifth as Mike Davis tossed a four-hitter.

All-Stars Have Four Top Quarterbacks For Friday

CHICAGO—(AP)—There'll be no shortage of quarterback talent with the College All Stars this year.

Coach Curly Lambeau, with a vivid recollection of what happened when the Stars were dumped by Cleveland 26-0 last year, has four of the nation's best quarterbacks ready for the New York Giants Friday night at Soldier Field.

Prepared to lead the All Star attack are Paul Hornung of Notre Dame, John Brodie of Stanford, Len Dawson of Purdue and Jim Harris who directed Oklahoma to the national collegiate title.

Last year the All Stars started fast with All America Earl Morrall of Michigan State at quarterback. Morrall had the collegians marching toward the Cleveland goal when he was injured and taken out of the game.

Cleveland Coasts
After that, the Stars were unable to put together a serious, offensive threat and Cleveland coasted to victory.

Two years ago when the Stars defeated Cleveland 30-27, it was largely the leadership of quarterback Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame which inspired the triumph.

If the Stars are to beat the Giants — current 10-point favorites — either Hornung, Dawson, Brodie or Harris will have to turn in a professional job. All have the capabilities and an indication of their potential is the fact that all but Harris were first choice picks in the National Football League draft.

Hornung was Green Bay's bonus choice. Brodie was grabbed by San Francisco. Dawson is headed for Philadelphia and Pittsburgh landed Harris.

Dawson and Brodie were generally regarded as the finest passers in collegiate ranks last year and set numerous records.

Both Can Run
Hornung and Harris, both excellent passers although not in the same class with Brodie or Dawson, are more dangerous since both are capable runners and will not hesitate to run if the Giants contain the All Star receivers.

On the receiving end the Stars have a lot of capable receivers. They're Joe Walton of Pittsburgh; Lamar Lundy, a 6-6 giant from Purdue; Tom Maentz and Ron Kramer of Michigan; Mike Sandusky of Maryland; Brad Bomba

Golfers Await 'World' Play

CHICAGO (P)—Virtually all the top-name golf pros were girding themselves today for the start of the game's richest event — the $101,200 "World" championship.

While they waited for practice rounds on the Tam O'Shanter course where the battle for a $50,000 first prize and $50,000 exhibition tour contract begins a 72-hole grind Thursday, talk centered on Gene Littler.

Littler's course record-matching 63 yesterday all but rubbed out the fact that Roberto de Vicenzo won the All American title.

It was Littler's last-round effort that drew the applause, and not De Vicenzo's final 70 which gave the hefty Argentine, now a club pro in Mexico City, a 72-hole tally of 273 — 15 under par — and the $3,500 first prize.

Littler's final round, equaling Lloyd Mangrum's mark set in 1948, ballooned him to second place with 277, worth $2,300.

Sam Snead was third with 278. Then followed Paul Harney with 279 and Art Wall Jr., Dow Finsterwald, Fred Hawkins and Bob Rosburg at 281.

Player Of Day Yank Pitching Prime Target For Woodling

By International News Service
Casey Stengel must be wishing today that he had learned how to pitch to Gene Woodling before he let the outfielder go after the 1954 season.

When the Ohio-born flyhawk was with the New York Yankees, he was known as one of the greatest streak hitters in baseball. But he was dealt to Baltimore and from there to Cleveland.

Chair League 'Also-Rans' Get Chance

Theoretically all eight teams are still in the Rocking Chair Softball League race for the four playoff positions as the circuit enters its last three weeks of play.

Defending champion Outdoor Club should have little trouble nailing down its second pennant in a row, the ODC clubbers having lost only once in 19 starts with nine contests remaining. They have a three-game edge over runnerup Elks.

The Elks, with a 16-5 mark, have been in second place most of the season and should finish as the runnerup, Pittsburgh Plate Glass (11-8) and Veterans of Foreign Wars (10-8) have been moving back and forth in third and fourth place.

Could Scramble Picture
The four second-division teams, with a good scrap from here on out, could scramble everything with the Knights of Columbus six-and-one-half games in back of fourth-place VFW. The Caseys (7-13) head the also-rans while Celanese (6-13) is only a half-game away followed by Ritter's (6-16) and Moose (5-15).

The also-rans all have their chance this evening if they are to get belated bids underway for a playoff role. The Knights will tangle with Outdoor Club at Fort Hill Field, Elks battle Ritter's at Allegany Field, Moose meet VFW at Stitzer Field and Celanese faces Pittsburgh Plate at Celanese Field. All games will start at 6:15.

The Caseys, losing four of their last five showings, have yet to finish on top against ODC in two games. The charges of manager Cecil Grimes took a squeaker in the opener, 13-12, had the second game postponed and then laid it on, 11-0. Outdoor Club has won seven in a row since losing, 1-0, to Pittsburgh Plate early last month.

Elks have compiled one of the top records in the circuit with only five losses. But, four of the defeats came at the hands of Outdoor Club in the series sweep and the BPOers failed to pick up ground. The fifth loss was to VFW, 9-6.

Win 11 Of 13 Games
The Elks have taken 11 of their last 13 starts and can sweep the set against Ritter's with a victory this evening. The ACers, beaten five times in the last six starts, were on the short end of two short-inning contests, 4-0 and 6-2, while also taking a 5-3 setback against Elks.

Ritter's snapped its five-game losing spin last Thursday in setting down Celanese, 3-1. They are only a game out of the cellar. VFW has come back from its three-game winless streak to bag its last pair of tilts. This evening's opponent, Moose, has fallen to the basement with its five-game losing streak. Of the 15 setbacks by Moose, two were to VFW, 12-11 and 4-2.

Pittsburgh Plate failed to take advantage of its meeting with Elks last week and had its winning streak snapped at three with the BPOers grabbing a 7-2 verdict. A victory would have put the Glassers within two games of the runnerup slot but now they trail by four.

The Silkers have put on a late-season spurt and taken three of their last five starts. Their clash with Pittsburgh is only the second in the series with a pair being postponed. In the lone tilt played, Pittsburgh had to go 11 innings before registering a 2-0 shutout. In that one, Bill Thompson pitched no-hit ball until the 10th and wound up by allowing only two safeties to notch the calculating job.

Sports Shoppers Seek To Break Rec Deadlock

Sports Shoppe, tied with Post Playground for first place in the Rec Softball League race, has a chance of grabbing a half-game lead this evening if whipping St. Luke's Lutheran in their clash at Post Field.

The Shoppers and Post both have won 13 of 16 starts. Post's is idle until Thursday when also meeting St. Luke's. The Lutherans have won only once in 15 starts.

One other contest is carded for this evening with Kelly Tires battling Gray's Tavern at East Side Field. Both tilts will begin at 6:15.

South End Merchants wound up their season yesterday with an 8-1 victory over Marine Reserves on the three-hit pitching of Paul Fisher. The Merchants posted a 10-8 record while Fisher won five and lost four. He fanned four yesterday to run his season total to 95.

Brown led the winners at bat with three hits while Crosser had two of the losers' three safeties.

A rash of home runs failed to decide the game at Allegany Field with Western Maryland Railway edging St. Luke's, 12-11. The losers had four circuit swats with Richards getting a pair while Sites and Andrews had one each.

Chauncey Friend was the big gun for the victors, batting in five runs, including the deciding marker in the final frame. He finished with a pair of doubles and two singles. John Reynolds, Western Maryland center fielder, turned in a nice running catch of a drive by Yutzky in the fourth.

A. Fair.

Q. With runners on first and third bases, the man from first is hit by a batted ball. Does the batter get a hit and can the man on third score?—Leslie McDevitt.

A. The batter gets a hit and the runner on third base cannot advance.

Q. An infield fly is called by an umpire before the ball hits the ground. The wind blows the ball into foul territory, where it remains. Should the umpire stick to his original ruling?—Joe Kane.

A. No. It is a foul ball. Umpires shout: "Infield fly, if fair!"

Pigeons Fly, Eggs Splash In St. Nick's

NEW YORK — Storm flags were flying at old St. Nicholas Arena, Pigeons flew through the smoky air, raw eggs splashed into the ring and bloody spectators went to the hospital.

In the ring Danny Russo of Brooklyn was punching out a split decision over Eddie Lynch of New York in last night's 8-round feature. It was a real brawl with both guys cut around the left eye, almost as wild as the ringside scene.

Two In Hospital

Police sat near the neutral corners in case the decision produced a new outburst. There were catcalls and boos but no brickbats.

Two New York spectators among the 1,405 paying ($2.87) went to the hospital. They claimed they were hit by a flying chair. One had a scamp cut, the other a fractured nose.

Lynch, a local favorite has his pigeon loving fans who let them fly around the arena when he fights. This was a gala occasion, his first main event and his third fight since getting out of the Army.

A raw egg splattered on the working press during the pre-fight introductions.

Fans Warned

Another egg squashed in midring after the second round. The hen fruit prompted a warning from New York State Athletic Commissions' Inspector Joe Tepper "no more eggs or no more fight."

That did it. Even the firecracker stopped popping. A man with a horn kept right on blowing.

At the end judges Nick Gamboli (5-2-1) and Harold Barnes (4-13-1) voted for Russo who weighed 148 to Lynch's 151 pounds. Referee Barney Felix thought Lynch had the edge 4-3-1. The A.P. card was 5-3 for Russo.

Russo now has a 11-3 record and Lynch 11-2.

Elks, Rotary In 10-Inning 0-0 Tie For Hot Stove Lead

Pacing Rotary and runnerup Elks showed why they have been running a neck-and-neck race for top honors in the Hot Stove Baseball League last night at Penn Avenue Field.

The teams battled to a 0-0 deadlock in ten innings with the league curfew calling a halt to what was probably the best played game of the season. At stake was first place for the Rotarians who have a game lead over the Elks. A victory for Elks would have knotted the race with both teams having three games remaining on the schedule.

To Replay Contest

The contest will be replayed in its entirety. Under 'Stove rules, no inning may be started after 11 p. m. Last night's tilt was halted, then, at 11:15.

Rotary was seeking a sweep of the series against Elks with 6-4 and 9-1 wins in their previous clashes.

Jaycees, with a chance of snaring one of the playoff positions, will meet Lions in this evening's opener of the twin bill at Penn Avenue. Jaycees, in fifth place, have won nine of 17 starts to trail fourth-place Kiwanis (11-6) by a pair of games. Lions are sixth with a 3-10 record.

Optimists and Exchange, both out of contention, meet in the 8:15 nightcap with the Exchangers still looking for their first victory. Optimists have won three of 18 with Exchange dropping its 18 to date.

For seven innings Roger "Pooch" Manges of Rotary and Donnie Nave of the Elks hooked up in a scoreless deadlock before the seven-inning rule forced both starters to retire Charles Rice of the Elks pitched to two batters in the eighth and was replaced by Roger Growden who finished the game. Melvin Nines succeeded Manges in the eighth and before the inning was completed Joe Ranker replaced him and finished on the rubber for manager Joe Gallen's league leaders.

No Hits, No Runs
During his seven-inning stint, Nave pitched no-run, no-hit ball, struck out 16 and issued only one walk. He whiffed the side in the first, fourth and fifth innings. Growden fanned two. Rotary's only hit was a single by Melvin Nines in the 10th inning.

Manges also struck out 16, fanning the side in the second, sixth and seventh stanzas. He gave up three walks. The Elks collected only three hits—a double by (Continued on Page 13)

Caseys' Harris Hurls 15th Win

George Harris, who has been the winner in all 15 victories and taken the five losses for the Knights of Columbus in the City Softball League, pitched the Caseys to a virtual tie for the lead yesterday as the Caseys dumped Old Exports, 5-2, at Stitzer Field.

The Knights, with a .750 percentage, trail Hermans who have taken 14 of 18 starts for a .778 mark.

Harris got the benefit of a four-run rally in the bottom of the fourth to notch his triumph.

Rickey Harris sparked the Knights with three safeties while Denny Shuck socked a two-bagger and single and Donnie Maden made several valuable stops at first base. Bill Eckard and Dave Ritter shared six of the Old Exports' seven safeties.

'Coney Snares Third Slot In Pony Playoffs

BI-STATE PONY LEAGUE
(Final Standings)

It took the final day of the regular season to determine two of the playoff positions in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League with Lonaconing grabbing the third slot while Cresaptown wound up fourth. Ellerslie won the pennant with Mt. Savage runnerup.

It took the final day of the regular season to determine two of the playoff positions in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League with Lonaconing grabbing the third slot while Cresaptown wound up fourth. Ellerslie won the pennant with Mt. Savage runner-up.

'Coney didn't have to swing a bat to get its berth as Frostburg was unable to field a team for their contest. Cresaptown, entering yesterday's game in a tie with 'Coney for third, was handed a 5-0 shutout by Midland in the windup.

Lefty Wayne Johnson spoiled Cresaptown's bid for third with a four-hitter while fanning 16 over the seven innings to send his total to 104 for the campaign. He finished with a 5-1 mark.

Bill Howsare, Jim Youngblood and Joe Winters had two hits for the winners who wound up in seventh place with an 8-13 log. Gary Clingerman of Cresaptown socked a pair of hits as manager Dale Broadwater's club ended with a 12-9 showing.

Ellerslie, pennant winner for the first time, closed shop with 17 wins and four defeats with a 13-5 rout of Corriganville on the winners' field. The Corgs, who lost their last eight starts, finished in the cellar with a 2-19 mark.

Steven Faulkner and Twaing Lowery slapped back-to-back homers for the champs in the second and then duplicated the feat in the fifth. Faulkner batted in six runs with his two homers, triple and single. Rich Lybarger hit safely three times while Howard Wisler tossed a seven-hitter, including a pair by Charles Winebrenner.

'Savage and LaVale put on a thriller in their last game with all the runs coming in the last frame as 'Savage dropped a 2-1 victory at home. The loss was the seventh in 21 games for the second-placers while LaVale deadlocked with Frostburg for fifth place on a 9-12 record.

"Buddy" Barb loaded the bases on walks in the top of the seventh and LaVale scored its two runs on a squeeze bunt by Bill Vanetta and an error. Pinch-hitter Billy Gordon's single sent Dale Hott home with Mt. Savage's lone tally.

Mt. Savage had four hits and LaVale one.

A league meeting will be held tomorrow, 8 p. m., at Frostburg City Hall to make arrangements for the playoffs in which the four top teams will participate.

Corgs, Stringtown Open County Playoffs Today

The County Softball League will be the first in the area to launch its playoffs with all four clubs in the loop participating for the championship.

Opening the best-of-three semi-finals will be second-place Corriganville and Stringtown this evening at Corriganville. Pennant-winning Maple Inn Old Germans will face third-place Burke's tomorrow evening to begin their series.

The Corgs and Stringers play Thursday at Stringtown in their second game while Maple Inn and Burke's collide again Friday on Burke's diamond in their second meeting. If third games are necessary they will be staged next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Maple Inn won the pennant with a 15-7 record while the Corgs (14-8) were second, Burke's (12-11) third and Stringtown (4-19) last.

Stringtown could manage only one victory in eight games against the Corgs, bagging the opener, 3-2, and then losing the next seven. Maple Inn and Burke's collided eight times with the front-runners taking five and losing three.

All games will begin at 6 o'clock.

B'nai B'rith moved within a half game of the second place Elks by defeating the Lions yesterday at Fort Hill Field, 10-9.

Darkness halted the contest after completion of six innings. Gary Mulligan, who pitched 5½ innings, got credit for his fifth win against no losses. He struck out seven.

Mulligan, Ronnie Speir and Bill Norris collected two hits each for B'nai B'rith. Atthey with three hits and Shook, Davis and Gaus garnered two safeties apiece for the Lions.

Scoring seven runs in the second frame, the Kiwanis Club downed the Jaycees in the first game of last night's twin bill at Penn Avenue Field, 9 to 2.

Lefty Gary Henry made his record 6-0 for the season, fanning 13 and issuing only three passes. His strikeout total soared to 110 in 51½ innings.

Doctor Lands Biggest Trout In Hudson Bay

HUDSON BAY, Sask.—(AP)—A four-pound four-ounce speckled brook trout taken from the Fir River by Dr. D. B. Rodgers of Regina is believed the largest of its kind ever taken in Saskatchewan.

Frank Robinson led the Cincinnati Redlegs in slugging with a .558 mark in 1956.

Yank Pitching

Since returning to the Indians, Woodling has made Yankee pitching the favorite victim of his hot bat.

He proved that again yesterday with a homer and a single that drove in five runs in Cleveland's 7-to-2 win over the world champions. In 16 games against the Yanks this season, Woodling has hit four homers and driven in 18 runs.

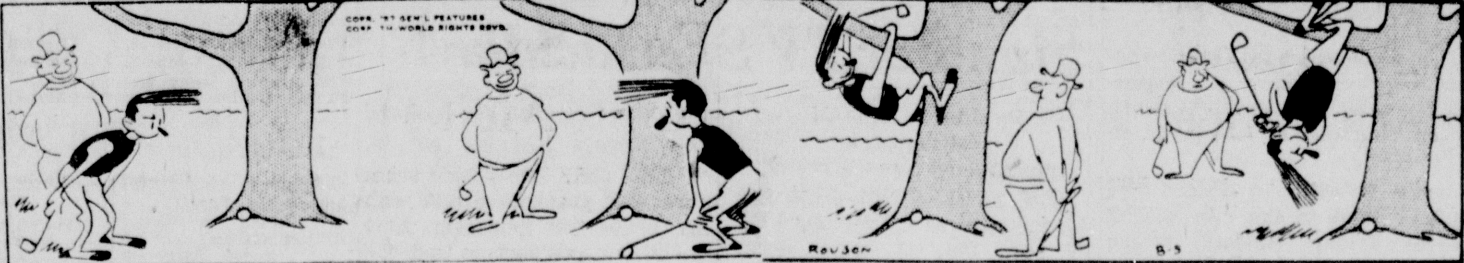

The 34-year-old left-handed swinger has one of the most distinctive batting styles in the major leagues. He squeezes his solid 5-foot-9, 200-pound frame into a squat, letter-S stance. His feet are close together, his knees bent and his body hunched over the plate.

It looks awkward but it isn't. With a .332 batting average, he trails only Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle in the American League. In five World Series, he piled up a batting average of .318.

Police In Five States Look For Harvard Coach

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(INS)—Police in five states today launched a check of motels and other stopping places along the route between Gettysburg, Pa., and Cambridge for a clue to the disappearance of John M. Yovicsin, new coach of football at Harvard University.

The 38-year-old coach has been unreported since he left Gettysburg Sunday to drive to Cambridge. His wife, Betty, asked state police in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts to look for him after she telephoned Harvard and discovered he had not arrived.

Mrs. Yovicsin said she wasn't really worried about her husband's failure to arrive in Cambridge at first but that she couldn't understand what has delayed him two days on a normal 10-hour drive. She added:

"I telephoned John because there was something I wanted to talk to him about and was surprised to find he hadn't reached Cambridge. He had no appointments or scheduled meetings to keep so I think he probably stopped somewhere to eat and got talking football with someone."

"Once he starts talking football, he never stops," she concluded from their residence in Gettysburg.

A Massachusetts State Police spokesman said the order to be on the lookout for Yovicsin was routine and that the coach was not considered a missing person.

"It's simply a 'try to locate' situation," he said. "After every weekend we have a dozen or 15 of them."

Mrs. Yovicsin's sentiments were echoed by Harvard line coach Ted Schmitt of Waltham. He remarked:

"John's discussing football, probably at a pro camp somewhere."

Bert Lahr, Jimmy Durante Sign For TV Spectacular

By JACK O'BRIAN
(Distributed by International News Service)

NEW YORK—(INS)—First two stars signed for the Standard Oil TV spec Oct. 13 were great clowns Bert Lahr and Jimmy Durante, who'll work together in the new "American Bandstand," which has no bands, just recordings, is better than his show which is just another of those teen-ager-kids-dancing in the studio plus a guest star (Billy Williams, this time) mouthing the words while his hit recording whirled. It's another of the shows whose attractions are more or less like watching an excavation—a hole being enlarged. Irritability, interspersed among a few intellectual clichés, can't be called wit, which sums up any performance of Henry Morgan. Jack Paar says Edith Adams didn't appear on his show because her husband Ernie Kovacs told her not to, and sums up: "Two people seem to forget I got into a jam with CBS brass for releasing Edie from a firm contract so that she could join her husband's show."

The ABC-TV technicians seven-hour strike knocked Lawrence Welk's show off last night's air but it was settled by 9:40 p. m. The beef—the union was afraid shows like "American Bandstand" originating in cities (Philadelphia) where it (NABET) lacked jurisdiction was a threat to its future. ABC assured the union its rights will be mother-henned.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Rejected after a teen-age romance, young woman is now emotionally numb.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH:
Four years ago, when I was 16,
I fell romantically and idealistically in love with a man who is now graduated from college, and has entered a military career.

After two years of dating each other, he told me quite frankly that he wasn't in love with me.
This was the only honest and sensible thing for him to do,
of course. But it gave me a shock from which I've never fully recovered. The blow has affected all the romances I've had since then.

Next year, I shall have to tell a certain boy (whom I have been dating) whether or not I will marry him the year following.

Can't Marry
In This Mood

The trouble with this romance, and others that have preceded it, is that I feel I am still hopelessly in love with Tom (let's call him).

I feel that it would be unfair to go into a marriage where divided loyalty and love exist. It is quite possible that I am immature emotionally, and have ceased to mature emotionally since I was 16.

Why Whitewash
Ungallantry?

You've been very "stiff upper lip" about the blow, ever since.
I gather—thus I suspect he had put you through a pretty harsh course of discipline (as regards your feelings) even before he broke away.

You say (bravely): "It was the only honest and sensible thing for him to do, of course"—to be blunt about the fact that he wasn't in love with you. I disagree. Either you are too generous in evaluating his behavior; or unwilling to face how badly you were treated. Or maybe you don't know the difference between fair and foul play in personal relations.

A gift of devotion (even if mistaken and unwanted), merits some respect, in a seasoned association. Thus a first-rate fellow, a humane character, would act considerably. He would manage somehow to supply decent psychological support to your self-esteem, even while putting himself in the clear.

Seems Geared
For Frustration

However, I don't think your trouble consists in being "still hopelessly in love with Tom." Indeed I doubt that he figures significantly in your love history—except as a memorable first symptom of "trouble ahead" in your affiliations with men.

Moles, weasels, skunks, foxes, coyotes, wolves and woodchucks are not the most esteemed animals but William H. Burt of the University of Michigan says there is a little bit of good in each one of them.

Professor Burt, curator of mammals at the U. of M. zoology museum, discusses the much-maligned creatures in his book, "Mammals of the Great Lakes Region."

Moles, he says, are beneficial in tilling the soil and consuming insects, except when they decide to hunt insects in gardens or lawns.

He claims weasels are condemned for their occasional raids on poultry which are "small payment for the hordes of mice kept under control by these energetic little carnivores."

Burt says skunks help farmers by killing mice, which should balance their occasional raids on poultry and habit of discharging scent near farm buildings.

Foxes are lauded by the professor as mousers, although he concedes an occasional renegade fox will wreck havoc on a farm yard.

Curator Burt states recent studies in various parts of the country show coyotes probably do more good than harm as scavengers and mousers.

He says wolves kill a few deer, "but there are usually too many deer for available winter food."

Woodchucks inflict only slight damage to crops, according to Burt, and "are definitely an asset" to hunters and trappers.

Anne Arundel Group Fights Integration

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A group opposed to any integration of schools has asked to be heard at an Anne Arundel County Board of Education hearing tomorrow on a petition urging desegregation of all county schools by September.

Dr. David S. Jenkins, superintendent of schools, said the Maryland Petition Committee, the group opposing integration, has asked to be heard at the hearing tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. in the Annapolis High School Auditorium.

The 257 signers of the petition urging a speedup indicated they also wanted to be heard. The signers did not associate themselves with any particular organization.

"You are duty bound to take immediate steps to eliminate segregation in all public schools on all levels at the beginning of the school term 1957," the petition said.

Last year, the county desegregated the first three grades and has added the fourth grade to these for the coming year in a program of gradual integration.

Under this policy, students may continue at their present school or transfer to a different one if it is closer to their home. The school board has used a ruling that the nearest school bus is the nearest school.

Legislators Find Senate Pay Best

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The three new legislators sworn in at yesterday's special session found that the Senate pays 60 times better than the House for one day sessions.

The House of Delegates passed a special resolution that its two new members, Leonard H. Barnett (R-Kanawha) and Paul J. Carr Jr. (D-Summers), should receive $25 a day for each daily session they attend until the end of the legislative year on Dec. 1.

The Senate, however, passed no such rule and its new member, Sen. Joseph M. Handlan of Parkersburg, received the full annual salary of a legislator, $1,500.

All three were appointed to vacancies which have occurred since the 60-day regular session last winter.

West Virginia Legislative Session Ends

Way Cleared For Sale Of Korean Bonus Bonds To State Unit

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A special legislative session, which cleared the way for immediate sale of Korean bonus bonds, was in adjournment today until 11 a. m. next Jan. 7 to permit further Senate study of executive appointments.

Democratic majorities managed to push through the unprecedented adjournment resolution late yesterday by straight partyline votes. There was only half-hearted Republican vocal opposition.

Off Open Market
The bonus program received approval after the Legislature's Democratic leadership and the Board of Public Works agreed to take the bonds out of the open market and purchase them with State investment funds.

The regular 1957 session last March raised from 3 1/4 to 3.9 per cent the interest ceiling on 18 million dollars worth of bonds to be sold to pay for the bonus program.

The bonds were made callable after Jan. 1, 1960, in hope the Legislature can find a source of revenue to pay them off at that time. The types of investment funds which can be used in their purchase also were increased.

The original bonus law provided that they could be purchased as investments only for the Workmen's Compensation and State Teachers' Retirement funds, provided the Board of Public Works wanted to buy them.

Checks Due Soon
Under amendments yesterday, funds of other State agencies which the Board of Public Works or State Sinking Fund Commission can invest also may be used in bond purchases.

State Veterans Affairs Director C. S. Collier Jr., re-appointed by Gov. Underwood yesterday, had estimated that bonus checks would be in the mail about two months after obstacles preventing sale of the bonds were removed.

The resolution for the prolonged adjournment of the legislature was presented by the Senate Democrats because they insisted there has not been sufficient time to study a list of 100 appointments made by Underwood.

The governor expressed a hope yesterday that the lawmakers would act quickly on the appointments, all of which have been named since the Senate last adjourned in mid-March.

Tunnel Section Sunk Into Place

BALTIMORE (AP)—The next-to-last section of the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel was sunk into place yesterday about 1,500 feet from the Canton entrance.

The last of 21 sections is scheduled to be lowered into place about Aug. 20 to provide the connecting link.

Harvesting Of Peaches Makes Start

Drought To Cause Abandonment Of Many Corn Fields

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Because of the crippling drought situation in lower Maryland and Delaware, many corn fields planted to produce grain will be used for silage or abandoned, the Department of Agriculture Crop Reporting Service said today.

Eighty-five per cent of the field corn had tasseled as of last weekend, the weekly report said, "and time for rains to improve the extremely poor yield prospects was rapidly running out."

Soybeans, the report said, needed moisture for proper development.

"Growth had nearly come to a standstill, but permanent drought damage in most areas was still considered to be moderate and future rains could boost yield prospects materially."

Yield prospects for nearly half of the Southern Maryland tobacco crop which now has "buttoned out" continued to decline.

Hay and pasture crops were making practically no growth.

In Western Maryland, orchardists were busy harvesting Red Haven and Golden Jubilee peaches. Halehavens and Sunhills peaches are expected to be ready for picking by Aug. 10. Georgia Belles should be prime by Aug. 23 and Elbertas Aug. 28.

Ft. Meade Authorities Await Medical Report On Dead GI

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Army investigators today awaited reports from Walter Reed Army Hospital in hopes they would shed some light on the death of a Philadelphia soldier.

The clothed body of Spc. 2 C. Roland H. Carey was found Friday in a swimming pool on this sprawling military post south of Baltimore and investigators say he may have been murdered.

The 26-year-old Negro had received $150 in pay last Wednesday but only $20 was found in his pocket and his billfold was empty.

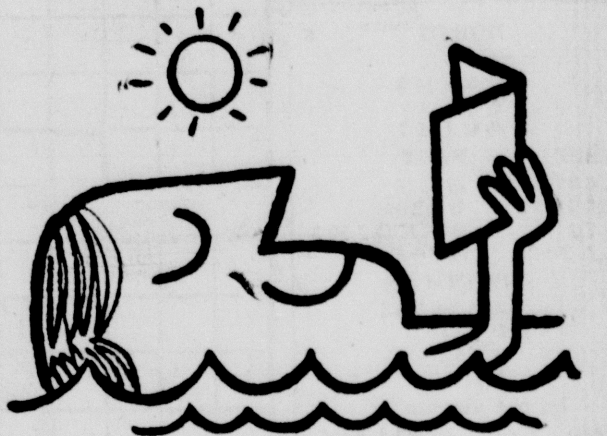

He had been scheduled to go on leave Thursday night but had failed to pick up his weekend pass, indicating he had remained on the post after being paid.

Col. Lehman J. Lewis, provost marshal, said "it is possible" Carey was robbed and slain. The left side of the victim's face bore marks which might be bruises, Lewis said. An autopsy was performed to determine the cause of death.
